Intro

Over the last 20 years, I've built 5 companies and worked with some of the most iconic brands on earth (below) which have a combined employee count of over a million people. I'm a multiple-time CEO and a TEDx speaker. I'm a co-founder of #lovework, a revolutionary app disrupting the way organizational development happens. I've been a coach to hundreds of professionals, from entry level roles to the C-suite. I'm the author of a book called Igniting the Invisible Tribe: Designing An Organization That Doesn't Suck, and have articles in publications like Fast Company, Forbes, and Business Insider. These days, I only work on world-bending projects that aim to make life fundamentally better for a LOT of people.
